

MEDIA RELEASE: 03 June 2013
For Immediate Release

ASSOCIATION OF
ACCOUNTING TECHNICIANS

AAT Australia appoints a new CEO

AAT Australia Board of Directors is pleased to announce the appointment of Stuart Norman as the new CEO of The Association of Accounting Technicians Australia.

Stuart Norman joins AAT Australia after several years with the National Electrical and Communications Association (NECA) which is the peak industry body representing electrical contractors. At NECA he performed a number of roles including the management of the EcoSmart Electricians Program.

Along with his years of experience in industry associations he also has completed a Master of Business Administration majoring in Marketing from the University of Ballarat.

"I'm excited about this role and the opportunity to represent those who provide such a vital service for businesses. It is my goal for us to provide members with the latest news and information in clear and timely way."

He is also looking forward to assisting members develop their own businesses through greater educational opportunities as well as marketing the services members offer to the wider community.

"BAS Agents and bookkeepers play such a vital role in the running of Australia's small businesses. Being small businesses themselves means we will look to provide a range of services to help members run successful and profitable concerns."

"I look forward to meeting as many of our members as possible as we aim to assist our members in a professional and friendly manner".

For more information please contact Paul Drum on 03 9606 9701.

About The Association of Accounting Technicians Australia

The Association of Accounting Technicians (AAT) Australia is the country's largest paraprofessional body in the accounting / finance / bookkeeping sector and is the only association that has the support of the three professional bodies being CPA Australia, the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia and the Institute of Public Accountants.

AAT Australia membership provides a commitment to high standards, professionalism, recognition and status for paraprofessional accounting technicians including self employed bookkeepers; payroll officers; BAS Agents; assistant accountants, accounts payable/receivable officers and other accounting support staff.

www.aat.org.au

Ends

Enquiries

Paul Drum
President
T: 03 9606 9701